ukim

We work with the country's leading hospitals and diagnostic providers which means we can offer quick access to a range of consultations and appointments for MRIs, X-Rays, CT Scans, Ultrasound and more.

After Testing

We will continue to be there for you by offering a range of treatment services and surgical procedures – whether that's injections to CBT or case management to post operative consultations.

No commitment needed

We will provide a full breakdown of costs before any decision is made on whether to proceed.

We know you'd expect this anyway

But our team are really good and they'll work with you every step of the way to keep things moving in the right direction for you and your client.

Whether your client is injured as a result of an accident or medical matter – diagnostic testing can be an important tool when valuing personal injury and medical malpractice claims and ensuring that your injured client receives the best type of treatment to help them recover.
